Seagull Software's offices are located in the Tower Place complex in the Buckhead section of Atlanta. Sometimes referred to as "the Beverly Hills of the East," Buckhead is one of the country's largest urban mixed-use development areas, combining major offices, retail outlets, hotels, restaurants, entertainment spots and high-rise residential units. Our offices are conveniently located in the heart of this bustling area, so you are only minutes away from some of Atlanta's best dining and entertainment options.

Driving Directions from Atlanta's Hartsfield Airport

Take I-85 North/I-75 North from the airport. Stay on I-85 North as it splits to the left away from I-75 North. Continue on I-85 North; stay right. Take Exit 87, GA 400 North.

Driving Directions from Peachtree-DeKalb Airport

Exit airport and turn right onto Clairmont Road. Turn left when Clairmont Road dead-ends into Peachtree Industrial Blvd. Stay on Peachtree Industrial Blvd.; it becomes Peachtree Road. You will pass two shopping malls (Phipps Plaza on your right and Lenox Square on your left); go two or three blocks past Lenox Square Mall. Just past a MARTA station, look for a sign on the right for Tower Place and AIU University and turn right at the light. Go down the hill to the stop sign and take a right. Our parking garage will be on your left. This driveway dead-ends in front of the building; curve to the right to enter the Tower 100 parking structure.

Parking at Tower Place

Use the visitor's entrance into the parking structure (the lane on your left when entering the garage); take a ticket. If your visit will be less than two hours, please park in Visitor Parking. If your visit will be more than two hours, please park in any space other than those designated Reserved or Visitor.

Dining

Buckhead is widely noted as the dining room of Georgia. There are over 200 establishments in this community serving food and beverages, including many nationally acclaimed restaurants for their excellence.

When visiting Seagull Software, you are fortunate to be near some of the finest restaurants in the country. Here's what the critics have to say about some of them:

Esquire magazine salutes two recent Buckhead additions - Aria, 490 E. Paces Ferry Road, (404) 233-7673, and Bluepoint, 3455 Peachtree Road, in the Pinnacle Building, (404) 237-9070 - in its list of the 22 "best new restaurants" in the nation.

Two Buckhead restaurants - The Dining Room at the Ritz-Carlton, 3434 Peachtree Road, (404) 237-2700, and Seeger's, 111 W. Paces Ferry Road, (404) 846-9779 - have been awarded five stars by Mobil Travel Guide for 2000. Only 18 restaurants in North America are on the list.

Buckhead's old homes and cottages provide much of its charm, some of which are now restaurants. For a look inside old Buckhead, try dining at these restaurants: Aria, Antica Posta, Basil's Mediterranean Café, Grappa, Portifino, Meritage and Soleil.

Local History

Buckhead traces its origin to Henry Irby's general store and tavern, which was founded in 1837. It was located at what is now the northwest corner of West Paces Ferry Road and Roswell Road. Irby's tavern became the stopping place for travelers in the thinly populated wilderness and the community that grew up around it was known as Irbyville. Irby maintained the tavern until well after the Civil War. It was Irby, according to a descendant, who killed a large deer and mounted the "buck head" where travelers could see it.

This display made an impression on passers-by, although it is hard to say why. Some viewed it as a sort of joke, a way of poking fun at European noblemen who displayed hunting trophies on their walls. The name Buckhead proved durable, despite a campaign in the late 19th century to rename the area Northside Park.

By the late 19th century and for much of the 20th century, Buckhead remained lightly populated, but was no longer a wilderness. It had become a posh suburb of Atlanta, where wealthy people lived serenely on lush, well-tended estates.

One of these estates, the country home of the Ottley family, became the site of Lenox Square mall in 1959. The construction of Lenox Square was a milestone in the history of Atlanta. The mall itself is the modern equivalent of Irby's tavern, a social and commercial hub for Buckhead. The Seagull Software offices are located approximately one-half mile from Lenox Mall.
